Praise

First, I think it is important to praise our residents for dealing with the shutdown with grace and determination. It is so hard to stay diligent when you just want to touch your loved ones.

Next, Windsor House Staff should be praised for their ability to stay healthy. They have made sure they are social distancing, associating with others who are safe, to protect residents of Windsor House.

If we stay strong and keep away from others and choose to wear masks when out, social distance as much as possible, and stay in until a vaccine is manufactured, we will come out of this healthy, strong and ready to see (party) with our family.

Marshmallow Dandies

This recipe was suggested for our cooking time on Thursdays, by a new resident Eleanor McClung.

Eleanor offered the recipe but we made it the Windsor House social distancing way.

This is a recipe that can be adapted to your taste.

So each of the ingredients were separated into small containers and each participant received a bowl, a spoon, a napkin and the small containers with the ingredients.

Then each participant prepared the dish with their own tastes in mind.

It was a good time of reminiscing and everyone had a different version and explanation for their choice.

Ingredients

2 Small Bags of Marshmallows

2 Cans of Pineapple chunks

Large Whipped Cream

Medium to Large Bag of Chopped Pecans

* This was enough for 12 people to use all the ingredients they desired. Everyone loved the adventure.
